

Smoking cessation in Asians: focus on varenicline [Corrigendum]

Xiao D, Chu S, Wang C. Patient Prefer Adherence. 2015; 9:579–584.

On page 581, second column, line 29 under the section “Safety and tolerance in Asian populations” the words “smoking cessation rates vs placebo” should be “incidence of serious neuropsychiatric adverse events vs placebo”.

Patient Preference and Adherence is an international, peer-reviewed, open access journal that focuses on the growing importance of patient preference and adherence throughout the therapeutic continuum. Patient satisfaction, acceptability, quality of life, compliance, persistence and their role in developing new therapeutic modalities and compounds to optimize clinical outcomes for existing disease states are major areas of interest for the journal. This journal has been accepted for indexing on PubMed Central. The manuscript management system is completely online and includes a very quick and fair peer-review system, which is all easy to use.
